

Odd Fellow Lodge Now Assured For Town Belle Glade

Most encouraging results have been obtained toward the formation of a new Odd Fellow Lodge, at Belle Glade, on Sunday, Oct. 7th at 3 o'clock. Canal Point and Pahokee section has come up with a score or more of prospective candidates, and Belle Glade is making excellent progress along that line.

The sponsoring lodge is West Palm Beach Lodge and it has secured Past Grand Master, Joe Ergle, of Ft. Pierce and Attorney Hamerick, grand Lodge representative of Okeechobee to be speakers at the organization meeting, along with other prominent Odd Fellows.

Deputy Grand Master James Dawson, of West Palm Beach, has set the tentative date for the instituting of the new lodge for November 4th, in morning and afternoon sessions. At this event the Grand Lodge Officers will be present to conduct official duties; and several east coast Lodges will also be present to confer the four degrees in full form and regalia.

In order to provide food for the delegation of Odd Fellow visitors expected in Belle Glade, on instituting day, Glades members and candidates will provide a barbecue dinner, time and place to be announced later.

Jobs Go Begging As Politicians Ready To Pay "Jobless"

DELRAY BEACH—In a forceful editorial, the Delray Beach News says: "The great throbs of sympathy and tears of grief being exhibited in Washington by some of the politicians for the 'jobless' are not fooling many people around here. It is certain that the American taxpayers have intelligence to see the silliness of it all.

In this area there is hardly a business or industry that is not seriously handicapped and curtailed for lack of labor. Strenuous efforts have been made and are being made in this community to secure painters, cooks, beauticians, printers and various types of other help without results. Common labor is just as difficult to find.

Shall we then be taxed to pay a weekly wage to men who just prefer not to work? It is a man 'unemployed' when he chooses not to work? When politicians scream about hunger and distress from unemployment and at the same time employers are closing their businesses for lack of labor, it is hard to find printable words to describe such perversion and quackery."

The situation described in the Delray Beach area is no different than it is at many other points. In Tampa last week one of the largest and oldest steam laundries, "The White Star," was forced to close its doors for lack of labor and at the same time the local United States Employment Service was offering over a thousand jobs with no takers.

Last week in lower Dade County, citrus growers lost thousands of trees overturned by the storm that might have been saved if labor could have been found to reset them before sun had damaged the roots.

Florida citrus and vegetable growers are having little success in finding labor and indications are that crops will again rot in the field for lack of help at harvest time.

Glades PTA Groups Receive Donations

County Commissioner Paul Rardin this week announced donations of $15 to each Parent-Teacher association in the Glades from the county commission publicity fund. Rardin said that he had mailed checks to the PTA groups in South Bay, Lake Harbor, Canal Point, Belle Glade and Pahokee.

Belle Glade Rams Tame Tigers From Stuart High 32-0

The Belle Glade Ram-bunctious eleven made the Stuart Tigers look like a bunch of house-broken tabby cats in blanking them 32 to 0 on Lair Field, Pahokee, Friday night. Not that the Tigers gave up, they kept fighting up to the very end but they were too light to make any headway, except for a flurry or two in the air, against the powerful Rams who this year average 167 pounds in the line and 137 pounds in the backfield.

On hand to see the game was a large crowd that overflowed the new bleachers and banked solid along the sidelines. Everyone expected the Rams' ace halfback, 195-lb Joe Cherry, to show up well and they were not disappointed for Cherry crossed the goal line twice in the third quarter and ran 90 yards for another maker in the fourth.

Coming somewhat of a surprise to local fans, however was the fact that Belle Glade has two other good backs in Quarterback Harrell who ran a touchdown in the first quarter and played like a veteran in the second game of his career as a football player. Fullback Bearden also proved a consistent ground gainer and scored a touchdown in the second quarter.

Belle Glade lost their opener to Lake Worth, 7 to 0, because of fumbles but they weren't fumbling Friday night and whoever comes up against them the rest of this season is bound to run into some tough opposition. Take note, Blue Devils, and keep that Lions trophy bright and shiny.

Pvt. John Padgett Is Liberated From Japs

Pvt. John Padgett, veteran of the Bataan campaign who has been a prisoner of war of the Japanese for the past three and a half years, was recently liberated from the prison camp and is now enroute home, according to a letter received from him from his mother, Mrs. Charles Moran, of Pahokee.

Pvt. Padgett, a graduate of Pahokee High School, joined the Army Air Corps in 1940 and was sent to the Philippines only a few weeks before the attack on Pearl Harbor. It is thought that he was on Corregidor at the time of the surrender. He was allowed to send one or two Jap. prison post cards to his mother while he was imprisoned in the Philippines. The last word received about him was a message several months ago from the Red Cross telling of his transfer to a prison camp near Tokyo.

His brother, Petty Officer Raymond Padgett, narrowly escaped capture by the Japs early in the war when he was blown from his ship and spent several weeks in enemy held territory before being rescued.

The epidemic of strikes throughout the nation may result in a heavy drain upon workers' savings to the end that the expected consumer buying bubble will be deflated, thinks Iron Age, national metal trade journal.

Harry Fremd Heads Pahokee Chapter Future Farmers

Harry Fremd was elected president of the Pahokee Chapter, Future Farmers of America, at the first meeting of the school year held on Thursday evening of last week in the new high school agriculture building.

Other new officers elected for the coming year were Bill Elam, vice president; Thomas Dickson, secretary; Ed Howell, treasurer; Otis Boland, reporter and Donald Smith, watchdog. W. M. DuBose is chapter advisor.

The difficulty of getting sufficient land for a collective chapter project was discussed at the meeting and it was decided to abandon the chapter project this year and concentrate on individual projects.

The date of the regular FFA meetings was set for the third Thursday evening of each month. Twenty-three green hands from the eighth grade joined the chapter, increasing the membership to sixty-five.

A program of humorous sketches was presented by members of the freshmen class. Those taking part were Rodrick Gibson, Buddy Sims and Howell Waring. Group singing was also enjoyed.

Youth Center To Open In H. S. Gym

Plans to use the high school gymnasium as a youth center and place of recreation for teen-agers on Friday and Saturday nights through the school year, have been announced by Charles S. Brown, city recreation director.

The new recreation program for youth will get under way this week with an after-the-game football dance on Friday night and another dance for youth of high school age at the gym on Saturday evening. So far as it is practical the young people at the youth center will be responsible for their own good conduct at the center and will operate their own refreshments concession, Mr. Brown said. The Parent-Teacher Association will be asked to sponsor the youth center recreation program and PTA members will be called upon from time to time to act as chaperones at the dances.

The new youth center recreation program succeeds the Teen-Agers organization which was sponsored by the Pahokee Methodist WSCS for the entertainment of the young people of the community during the summer months.

Canal Point PTA Has Regular Meet

A regular meeting of the Canal Point PTA was held at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium. Mrs. F. M. Wilson, president, was in charge of the business part of the meeting which was short. A $15 donation from the board of county commissioners through Phil Rardin was acknowledged.

On the program under the direction of Mrs. Otto Coleman Miss Mary Eleanor Jernigan rendered two piano solos. Mrs. Charles Jones and Mrs. W. P. Jernigan gave interesting talks.

Assuming that the annual Halloween carnival is to be held in Pahokee this year, the group voted to participate and stand the regular share of expense.

Bill Kirk Has 12th Birthday Anniversary

Bill Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Kirk in Pahokee, was to have a party on Sept. 14, celebrating his birthday anniversary. About the time the celebration was to have been held along came a hurricane which called for postponement of the party. Bill was 12 years old and not to be outdone by just one hurricane he had his party later. About 20 youngsters attended and following the refreshments the group went to a movie.

Veterans Bureau Open In Pahokee

A Veterans Bureau was opened in Pahokee on Tuesday of this week with World War Veteran L. V. McClelland in charge. The office is located in the city hall and will be open daily for service to returning veterans who seek advice, jobs, or information concerning the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The Veterans Bureau is maintained by tax money raised by the board of county commissioners through a special law passed at the 1945 session of the state legislature. The money is set up in the annual budget and expended by the Palm Beach county veterans bureau which has offices in outlying towns of the county. Salary of the office manager in Pahokee is paid out of the tax levy.

In Belle Glade Hub Spooner is the man in charge of veterans work. He is on the pay roll of the War Manpower Commission and his salary is supplemented from the fund controlled by the board of county commissioners.

At the Pahokee office since its opening on Tuesday of this week, Mr. McClelland has interviewed 14 returning veterans. Eight of these visited the office on the first day and six on the second.

Ens. David Chancey Writes Letter Home

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Chancey in Pahokee are in receipt of an interesting letter from their son, Ensign David M. Chancey, USNR, which is published below in part. It was written after Japan's defeat and censorship had opened up.

The letter tells of many engagements in which the Aircraft Carrier Lexington participated and Ensign David was among those present. The letter tells of preparations for battle and also of interesting rest periods while taking on supplies. Incidentally, David said, supply periods were always welcome because they usually brought mail also.

Of interest is the closing paragraph. In part it says: "I'll be detached soon and it is going to hurt. When you have buried men with honors, when you have helped land aircraft on schedule after being hit, when you have fought and been proud with your shipmates—there is a lot more than a professional attachment. I won't hear the battle yell, 'Habba-Habba,' and I won't be going home with the ship. I know the proudest day of my life would be to sail with the Lexington and every one of her officers and men in to Boston. She was built and named there and probably only Boston could give her the acclaim and welcome that I think she deserves."

Pahokee's foot ball season opens tonight at 8 o'clock when the Blue Devils meet the Delray Beach Seahawks on Lair Field. A big crowd is expected to be there to see what progress the coaching team of Alley and Brown has made in one short month of training the green Blue Devils.

In scrimmage games played under regular game rules the first string looked good against a very light B team. What they can and will do when faced with strong opposition is a moot question. It is also difficult to predict what kind of a battle the Seahawks are going to give the Blue Devils. Delray has played one game this season, a 6 to 6 tie with Gesu last Friday night, however, no one from this area saw the game and little is known of the Seahawks' potential strength.

The Blue Devils are starting the season with a fairly heavy line and a very light backfield. In practice the backfield looks pretty fast and apparently has more snap and a quicker get away than any Blue Devil backfield seen in action in the last three or four years. Fullback Dickson is developing into a first rate line plunger. Quarterback Geiger has the makings of a humdinger of a scat back it he can learn to keep from getting hurt so easily. Halfbacks Gillis and Scott are fearless, aggressive players who do some of their best work on the defensive.

The Blue Devil line looks to be well-balanced. As for the blocking and tackling—what do you say, let's go to the game and see just what the boys can do. The field is in excellent condition, all the new seats have been installed and the Pahokee High School Band and Drill Team is all set to give you some grand entertainment on the field between halves.

Lampi Named State Music Clinic Head

At the meeting of the Florida Bandmasters Association in Tampa last weekend, Pahokee's own bandmaster, Robert O. Lampi, was elected chairman of the annual Music Clinic which is to be conducted in Tampa Nov. 19 and 20.

A select group of musicians from high schools throughout the state will attend this clinic which will include band, orchestra and vocal music. Performances will be given by a 100-piece band composed of the best high school musicians in the state and by a 200-piece overflow band composed of musicians of lesser talents.

From the numbers played by these bands at the clinic there will be selected the music which will be used for the annual spring state-wide inspection of high school bands.

An entirely new group of lubricants, based on synthetic oils, has been developed by Carbide & Carbon Chemicals corporation.

We believe that only such newspapers as maintain the highest standards of truth, honesty and decency in news, editorials and advertisements deserve the support of the community.

We believe that if business is worth having, it is worth going after, and that a prosperous newspaper can do more for its community than one that is "ill-equipped, ill-housed and ill-supported."

We believe in our state and its unlimited possibilities and will do all in our power to sell it to our people and the nations.

We believe that world unity, progress and peace depends upon free access to all news sources and uncensored fair dissemination thereof.

JERRY CARTER FIGHTS BLINDNESS

Jerry W. Carter of the Florida railroad commission, was a caller in the editor's sanctum on his way to Miami for some hearings on applications for bus line extensions and sightseeing operations in the Magic City. For a year Jerry has been fighting blindness, cataracts that have tried to cut him off from the world he loves and enjoys so much. But with his usual indomitable spirit he is winning the battle and now with thick lenses that serve almost as a disguise, he is back on his job and able to laugh from the stomach up, as usual. Congratulations, Jerry, on the courage it has taken to carry on and win. — Stuart News.

Fallen trees will be the next product to benefit from DDT, or so Canadian experimenters hope. Trees that have to be left in the forest from one logging season to the next are usually a total loss from insect damage. Even more dramatic losses occur when numbers of trees are killed by fire or storm, as in the great "Tillamook Burn" or the New England hurricane of 1938. The Canadians hope crews can go into the bush, spray the down trees with DDT, and find them as good as new when the loggers get around to them.

Chemists say DDT may be obsolete in a year or so. A. U. S. and a British company have components they say are better. — Wall Street Journal.

Once upon a time two large turtles and a little one went to a bar to quench their thirst. Each ordered a mug of sarsaparilla. As they began to drink it, one of the large turtles commented that it was raining. Whereupon there was a lively discussion and it was decided they ought to have their umbrella, and that the little turtle should go home for it. The little turtle demurred, expressing the fear that if he went for the umbrella, the two big turtles would drink his sarsaparilla while he was gone. After much discussion the big turtles convinced the little fellow they would not drink his sarsaparilla, and he started after the umbrella.

Three weeks passed, and finally one of the big turtles said: "Let's drink the little guy's sarsaparilla." "I've been thinking the same thing," said the other, "so that's just what we'll do."

From down at the end of the bar near the door, a shrill voice cried: "If you do, I won't go after that umbrella." — Capper's Weekly.

In saving wear and avoiding breakdown the U. S. Army uses Sinclair lubricants in

To save engine wear he has Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. Opaline stands up better and lasts longer because it is not only de-waxed but also de-jellied. Play safe, have your Sinclair Dealer drain and refill your crankcase with Opaline every 1,000 miles.

This Is National Newspaper Week And Kay Cites Newspapers' Usefulness

(By Russell Kay)

Since the week of Oct. 1 to 8 is National Newspaper Week, I'd like to devote this column to the subject of newspapers and what they mean to the community.

Most folks today are inclined to take their newspaper for granted. They expect to find it awaiting them when they arise in the morning or at the door when they return from work in the evening if they are metropolitan dwellers. In smaller communities, the local weekly paper fills a need in providing folks with interesting items about local happenings, births, deaths, business changes, markets and personals.

It took the recent Newspaper strike in New York to really bring home to us what newspapers mean to the average American. In an interesting booklet entitled "City in the Dark," the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publisher's Association tells the dramatic story of public reaction as disclosed by an unbiased survey.

New York's newspaper blackout lasted from the morning of July 1 to noon July 17 and during that period 13,000,000 readers went without newspapers. The only way a paper could be obtained was by applying for it at one of the newspaper offices. Thousands of people stood in line for hours to buy a paper, one publisher reported a queue two or three abreast 17 blocks long. Some came as far as 200-miles, waited two hours or more to get their favorite newspaper.

People fortunate enough to secure a paper shared it with their neighbors or sold it. In some instances papers sold for $1 a copy. Army and Navy hospitals sent trucks to get papers for their wounded inmates. Counter sales at newspaper offices jumped from 246,114 on July 2 to 1,256,624 on July 16. For the entire strike period a total of 9,288,127 papers were sold over the counter at a place of publication.

The hundreds of thousands who swarmed newspaper plants every day were still only a small fraction of the 13,000,000 readers of the affected papers. To find out just how these folks felt, Fact Finders Associates, Inc. was commissioned to interview a cross section of men and women on the streets of New York. 1017 persons were interviewed, 490 men and 527 women.

Sample expressions that came from those interviewed were as follows: "I feel lost"—"It cuts you off from the world"—"You can't get the news you want when you want it"—"I just can't get used to it"—"I'm losing money; I can't advertise"—"I'm all mixed up on my ration points because I can't get the paper"—"The whole family misses the comics"—"I feel as if I were living in a continuous blackout".

Everywhere in New York and its sprawling metropolitan area you saw—and almost felt—the difference. Commuters fidgeted morning and night, gazed blankly out of train windows at scenes already passed a thousand times.

Shoppers, with no ads to guide them, dashed from store to store, hoping to find what they wanted. Investors grumbled vainly at the lack of comprehensive market reports. Newspaperless movie fans kept telephone lines at hundreds of theatres jammed from morning to night. Youngsters by the countless millions whined to helpless parents about the famine in funnies.

Radio did its best to fill the gap. Several publishers purchased radio time to broadcast news both foreign and local, supplementing the regular news broadcasts of all networks and local stations. Folks found that while the radio gave splendid service, it just couldn't fill the bill, it wouldn't replace the newspaper. You just couldn't sit and listen to the radio and get the information you wanted when you wanted it.

Women testified to their need for advertisements. They were lost without them. Retail sales started taking a slump with the beginning of the strike and continued to fall through its duration. Stock market sales dropped off. An already overburdened telephone service proved totally inadequate to meet the situation. Folks missed their newspaper more than they had missed anything else and found that nothing else could take its place. So, it seems proper and fitting that we observe National Newspaper Week in tribute to a service rendered.—One of the best ways to evidence your appreciation of your local newspaper is to step in and personally thank your editor and publisher and while you are there, you might make it a point to pay your subscription if you have neglected to do so.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

I'll let you in on something that you are going to thank me for after you have taken advantage of this tip. Don't you miss "Practically Yours," which is due for its screening at the Prince Theatre this coming Sunday-Monday.

Its three principal stars are Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray and Gil Lamb, and what a grand job they do with this piece. I also vote for the canine member of this cast as he (or she) is one of the cleverest little animals I have seen in a feature in some time. She Stole The Show and she also stole the hearts of all dog lovers.

Mikhail Rasmunsky as the eccentric photographer will slay you, I promise you. You will laugh until your sides ache at his antics in this small bit allotted to him.

Judy Canova and Richard Lane, together with a great cast of featured players bring you very entertaining musical comedy to our screen this Tuesday-Wednesday, when they present "Louisiana Hayride". This one is strictly on the comedy side, and with Judy's peculiar voice and comedy antics, not withholding the magnificent array of musical talent crammed into the picture I am sure you will like it.

On the same program comes Walt Disney's full length technical color cartoon comedy "The Three Caballeros", which will not only delight all the youngsters, but will get many good laughs from the oldsters.

Thursday-Friday we will see Connie Moore and Ralph Bellamy, (two very clever persons), who will present "Delightfully Dangerous", which again is a comedy. This well written piece has received many pages of praise from critics all over the country, so I don't hesitate in recommending it to you.

On the same program comes John Loder and Rose Hobart in "The Brighton Strangler", which happens to be not only a mystery but also a horror picture that will keep you right on the edge of your seat.

Saturday comes "Death Valley Raiders" which features an all star Western cast.

See you at the movies—Mal.

Capt. Lake Coleman Again A Civilian

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Coleman in Pahokee received a telegram from their son, Capt. Lake Coleman in Tallahassee on Tuesday of this week, in which he said he had reverted to a civilian status after 50 months in the service of Uncle Sam. He received his discharge at Camp Blanding on Monday.

Capt. Coleman wears the combat infantry badge, silver star, bronze star, purple heart, American defense ribbon, European theatre ribbon with five campaign stars and the unit citation received for fighting with the 101st Airborne Division in the defense of Bastogne in Belgium. The bronze star is for heroic achievement during the battle of the Hurtgen Forest in Germany and the Ardennes campaign in Luxembourg in December. The silver star is for gallantry in action in Normandy, France, near St. Lo. And the purple heart, of course, is for wounds received in action.

Reasons Why You Should Join Your Local PTA Group

You may have a son or daughter, or perhaps you are a teacher, with many children in your charge. Or maybe you're just a citizen, someone who knows that this world will someday need new leaders—leaders who must be recruited from among the youngsters down the block and others like them. Whichever you are, there's a place for you in the P. T. A. and a reason—many reasons—why you should be occupying that place right now. Somewhere in this list you'll find the reasons that fit your own particular case. Children's needs won't wait. It doesn't take long to grow up. And growing up under unwholesome or undesirable conditions means tragedy to the child and loss to the nation. The P.T.A. helps to prevent both.

Many heads are better than one. In the parent-teacher-association all members pool their thinking in a common cause. We must do something about the increase in juvenile delinquency, and more than a dozen other pressing problems. Through the P. T. A. you can contribute your share in these very necessary activities.

We want our boys and girls to grow into responsible adults. It's a good idea to let them see responsible adults from their own homes working together in the P.T.A. Remember that it is far easier to teach by example than by precept. This world needs to learn exactly what democracy is all about, needs to see it in action at close range. Where better than in the P.T.A., one of the most democratic organizations in America?

We know more about training children than we used to, and it makes a difference in our way of handling them. The P.T.A. brings you the latest and best information on child training.

Most of us have a more or less urgent desire to do something to make the world a little bit better. In the P.T.A. we begin to feel that we can do something in this direction. Making the world better by rearing a better generation of children is the goal of the P.T.A.

Federal Road Aid Available Under Congressional Act

WASHINGTON—An immediate start on a three-year, $3,000,000,000 Federal-State highway construction program got an okay from Congress Tuesday.

It came when the Senate without debate and in two minutes adopted a House-approved resolution saying there is no reason to hold up any longer a program approved last December as a post-war employment cushion.

The resolution does not require the President's signature.

The program is the first big postwar public works project to get a go ahead.

Worked out in detail 10 months ago, it provides for a Federal outlay of $500,000,000 a year for the next three years to match, dollar-for-dollar, State expenditures on highways.

In addition, it provides for Federal expenditure of $87,250,000 annually over the same period for construction of roads and trails in forests, parks and Indian lands.

The $500,000,000 of aid to States is divided into this manner:

$225,000,000 for primary Federal-aid highways.

$150,000,000 for secondary and feeder roads.

$125,000,000 for highways in urban areas.

Because labor and materials were scarce owing to wartime demands, Congress, provided when the program was framed that it should not get underway until the President or Congress proclaimed that the war had ended, or until Congress found that the construction could start.

The resolution giving the go ahead fell under the third provision.

Senators were advised that the Treasury probably will not have to pay out more than $25,000,000 under the program in the first years operations although commitments may mount to $500,000,000.

Under the plan, States which have the money will go ahead with construction, paying their own way, then come to the Federal government for repayment of half the cost of approved projects.

TALLAHASSEE — Chairman Elgin Bayless has announced that the Florida state road department can start spending its $7,004,357.1-year share of the federal highway building funds allocated by congress almost immediately.

The congressional act allow Florida $3,236,627 a year for main highway system projects, $2,168,089 a year in federal funds for secondary roads and another $1,599,641 for highways in urban areas.

Bayless said the department has ample state money to match the federal funds dollar for dollar, as the law requires.

If you live in Canal Point and have been throwing garbage in the canal I suggest that you mend your ways. The State Road Patrolman saw a fellow throw garbage in the canal one day, this week and the fellow soon found himself in jail. The bond was set at $50. And, the $50 had to be forthcoming before the fellow could be released from jail. Better take a hint. Find some way to dispose of your garbage instead of throwing it in the canal.

194 Attend First Fall Meeting PTA Group In Pahokee

Judging by the tenor of the first meeting held Monday night in the high school auditorium, it looks like another big year ahead for the Pahokee Parent-Teacher Association. Nearly 200 persons were present, 194 to be exact, and the new president, Carl A. Moberg, was in fine fettle as he told of the objects and aims of PTA and stressed the difference between American democracy which trusts in the guidance of God and other democracies which are godless. There were times during the address when the audience thought the speaker was going to jump track and land smack-dab into the middle of a "fire and brimstone" sermon but he fooled them, held tight against the curves of diversion and brought to a successful and an interesting and highly significant talk.

When President Moberg suggested a membership goal of 500 for Pahokee PTA this year he was given the merry "ha ha." Last year's membership of 370 was considered phenomenal and before that between one and two hundred was considered a satisfactory membership. It was, therefore, with incredulity and warm applause that the crowd greeted the report of Duncan Padgett, membership chairman: 445 members signed up to date with the 500 membership goal plainly in sight. Mr. Padgett was assisted in the membership drive by Elmer Jones, Mrs. W. P. Jernigan and Mrs. Cleo Douthill.

PTA executive board action was reported and approved as follows: The monthly attendance awards at both the elementary and high schools was increased from 50 cents to one dollar. Attendance, hereafter, will be registered at the door instead of, by standing count at meetings. Children of the elementary school room and the high school class credited with the best PTA attendance during the year will be entertained at parties given by PTA at the end of the school year.

Mrs. Dorothy Froemming and Mrs. Frances Harlow were given a vote of thanks for their work in preparing the PTA yearbook which were distributed at the meeting. Mrs. Pat Schoepel, room mothers chairman, was appointed chairman in charge of the annual Halloween party for school children. Mrs. Froemming and Mrs. Schoepel were appointed on a committee to study conditions at the school cafeteria and recommend ways of expediting the serving of lunches, also to investigate means by which federal aid may be obtained for the cafeteria.

A complete report on the cafeteria from June to September was made by Mrs. C. A. Shive, supervisor. Mrs. L. J. Fraser, finance chairman, reported a PTA treasury balance of $57.87. The dates of the next two PTA meetings were changed from Nov. 5 to Nov. 12 and from Dec. 3 to Dec. 10. A $15 donation to PTA from the Board of County Commissioners, presented thru letter by Commissioner Paul Rardin, was gratefully accepted.

On the program Robert O. Lampi sang two vocal solos, "I Hear You Calling Me" and "Brown Bird Singing," accompanied at the piano by Mr. Moberg. Principal D. D. Caudill introduced members of the faculty and President Moberg introduced PTA officers who will work under him. Mrs. Frances Harlow was in charge of program arrangements.

Mrs. Homer Barnes hospitality chairman was in charge of the serving of refreshments in the school cafeteria during the social hour which followed the meeting. Mrs. E. F. McIlwain, Mrs. John T. Fickett and Mrs. A. E. Morgan acted as hostesses.

PAT'S DOG IS KILLED

Pat Carroll's dog "Nell" was killed this week when the mail truck inadvertently struck her. The accident happened near the filling station operated by her master. "Nell" was a familiar character on the south side of the canal. Pat had trained her to run errands for him. It was nothing to see "Nell" going to the pool room for a candy bar or a bottle of something cool to drink.

Halloween Party To Get Lions Aid

Pahokee Lions at their Tuesday luncheon meeting voted to again assist the PTA in conducting the annual Halloween party for school children which will be held on Lair Field the last of this month. At the request of Mayor O. B. McClure, President Jess M. Elliott appointed Joe Hatton, Monroe Pope, Ralph Stanley and Roy Segree on a committee to work with city officials and other civic club representatives in a concerted effort to get the Pahokee Migratory Labor Camp reconverted for use by white labor.

"Ramie" Is Subject Of Garden Club Talk

F. E. Bryant, vice-president and superintendent of the eastern division of the United States Sugar Corporation, addressed the Clewiston Garden Club at the first meeting of the season on "Ramie" Thursday afternoon in the library.

Mr. Bryant said that ramie was first grown in China some four thousand years ago. It is particularly adapted to growth in the Everglades but requires good drainage, he pointed out. A plant is now under construction to take care of 1,500 acres at a cost of approximately $250,000 and is expected to be completed by May 1. At the present time, Mr. Bryant said, 500 pounds a day are being shipped from the Glades to the Boston Navy Yard.

The United States Sugar Corporation and Newport Industries are collaborating on the growing and processing of ramie. Although the development of ramie is still in the experimental stage it is an excellent crop both for small and large farms, Mr. Bryant pointed out, because it requires little care. It is not intended, he said, to displace any other product because ramie is always used fractionally with another product in the finished goods. He displayed samples of it in various stages of processing, a shirt made of fifty per cent ramie and fifty per cent rayon and cited its uses in carpet, drapery and upholstery fabrics.

Jaudon and will make its contribution to the Sunday night musical program shortly. The Sunday School average attendance of more than two hundred continues to be maintained. A goal of an average of two hundred and fifty with some Sundays of three hundred is the objective of the Superintendent O. O. Gilbert for the new church year as of Oct. 1st. The Training Union Director or Mr. W. V. Unwin, not to be outdone, has his "sight" set for one hundred.

Bars Must Serve Cooked Meal When Liquor Is Sold

TAMPA—State Beverage Director James T. Vocelle has defined just what constitutes a legally cooked meal prepared and served in a Florida saloon.

"A hot plate and an ice box would place a liquor store in a position to comply with the state law," Vocelle declared.

The beverage director last week served notice on Florida liquor places giving them 60 days in which to begin serving cooked meals along with drinks. He stated the state liquor laws call for this and failure to comply would mean the loss of license.

Immediately following issuance of the notice, liquor dealers and restaurant operators lodged protests. The liquor men said they were not in a position to install kitchens and the restaurant men said it was unfair for the state to force competition into their business.

Vocelle, here on a visit, said he had warned liquor dealers last year he would enforce the state law as soon as there was a letup in food rationing.

"There's no excuse for their protest," Vocelle asserted. "The law plainly states cooked food must be prepared and served in places serving liquor by the drink."

"Gov. Millard Caldwell appointed me to enforce the law. I gave the liquor dealers plenty of notice. It's now up to them."

Vocelle added he will begin enforcement of the law the latter part of November.

A new type double bedroom and a master bed room, for sleeping car passengers, embracing facilities and conveniences never before available in modest priced accommodations, will go into production soon at the plant of the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Co. These features will be incorporated in streamlined stainless steel passenger cars.

Imported Laborers Being Returned To Native Lands

WASHINGTON — A total of 315,000 jobs now held by war prisoners and foreign workers in the United States are being filled gradually by American workers. Reconversion Chief John W. Snyder made this known today in a report which said:

All prisoners of war will be shipped home by early 1946. Of the 414,000 in this country Sept. 1, about 140,000 were available for private employment. Americans are replacing those outside-prison-camp workers as "rapidly as they are available."

A total of 175,000 foreign workers were employed in this country in August, but by the end of the year 68,000 Mexican and 15,000 West Indian workers engaged in non-farm work will have left for home. The Agriculture Department also plans to return the 85,000 foreign workers employed on farms, though a few may be needed next year. Contracts for industrial work are no longer being renewed.
